CORRIGAN'S FIGURES. FURGUESON WASTED MONEY

Evidences of Mismanagement in It Belonged to New Utrecht and the Truants' Home.

Mackerel 1 Cent a Pound One Year Investigation Into His Accounts and 14 Another.

Other Queer Discrepancies in the Price of Supplies.

The Aldermanic Committee appointed to investigate the various city departments in Brooklyn to-day began an inquiry into the management of the Truants' Home, and adjourned because the ant were of such a startling nature that wished to go deeper into the accounts before making a report.

Home is Franklin Alien, formerly secretary to Mayor Seth Low. Mr. Allen was gone over the accounts of Supt. Patrick Corrigan, he had found a big discrepancy in the price of supplies furnished the home. In 1890, Mr. Allen stated, oats had been supplied for 50 cents a bushel, ard in 1883 oats had cost $2.50. Sait mackerel cost one cent a pound one year, and the following year 14 cents a pound. Straw supplied in 1893 cost 50 cents a bundle, and in 1894 $1.10. Feed in 1893 cost $1 a bushel, in 1894 $1.0. Smoked mackerel jumped from one cent a pound in 1890 40 cents, and in 1893 $1.20. Smoked mackerel jumped from one cent a pound in 1890 to 12 cents a pound in 1893.

Sait cod in 1833 was purchased for eight cents a pound, while in 1891 it had only cost one cent a pound.

Canned peaches in 1889 had cost $2.00 per dozen cans, but in 1830 they were supplied for $1. Yellow meal, in 1890, cost $1 a sack, in 1891. Sc cents, in 1892, $1.50; while, in 1833, it had cost $2.

Mr. Allen stated that it cost $3 cents a day for each boy at the Home, while at the penitentiary it is only 3 cents, and at the jail 23 cents a day for each prisoner.

This difference, Mr. Allen said, might at the jail 23 cents a day for each prisoner.

This difference, Mr. Allen said, might be accounted for by the cost of the educational facilities at the Home.

When questioned by the committee regarding the difference in the prices of supplies, Mr. Allen said it might be due to the lowest bidder. The receipts made out by the Superintendent, he said, were irregular and could easily be changed by any dishonest contractor. He recommended a new system of receipts.

The investigation will be continued Thursday morning.
